President's Message

Greetings all;

By now most of you all have received a questionnaire about the direction we would like the club to go. It is a tuff time, but we can not continue to operate in the same way. I'm here to support the majority.

As spring has sprung, let us look forward to a great summer and the return of our snowbirds in the fall. Your board of directors should continue to meet monthly, to maintain our club, and advise on ways to take care of our Children's needs.

Remember your Blue Lodge,

Fraternally,

Noble Bob Bennett, President

Series Introduction: Please take your Bibles and turn to Matthew 6:9-13 and Luke 11:1-4. In this passage, we again find our Lord teaching on prayer. The disciples come to Jesus, as He is praying, desiring to be taught about prayer. Evidently, they had seen something in the prayer life of Jesus that they wanted in their own prayer life. Their request is revealing. They said, "Lord, teach us to pray." Their request is two-fold. First, they wanted to know how to pray and talk to God as Jesus Himself did. Secondly, they desired a burden to pray. They saw the priority prayer held in the lord's life and they desired to be gripped by the same passion for communion with the heavenly Father.

In the words that follow, Jesus gives them the framework for praying that accomplishes both goals. You see, this prayer is not a prayer to be memorized and quoted as many do, but it is a framework around which we are to build our own prayers. It is a pattern, or a template from which we can build the structure of our own prayers. Hence, it teaches us how we should pray.

As we pray, according to this pattern, God will hear our prayers, and He will answer them for His glory. As we pray, the answers to prayer and the communion we experience with God in prayer serves as a catalyst to a deeper and stronger prayer life. Thus, this model prayer teaches us both how to pray and to pray.

I think that even though the smallest child can understand the basic message of this prayer, even the most skilled of theologians could never hope to plumb its vast depths. What I hope we can take away from is a deeper and greater burden for prayer in our own lives. Therefore, I challenge you it is to preach and make it your goal to incorporate that phrase into your prayer life every day. If we will do that faithfully, we will be praying prayers built upon the pattern for prayer. We will be praying prayers that God will hear and that He will answer because they will be prayers that are prayed within the parameters of His perfect will.

In Loving Memory

Noble Jon DeCaluwe

February 2026

Noble Jon was true noble in every way he was dedicated to the masonic and shrine mission to enhance our brotherhood possible. He lived as a mason and Shriner should, true to his Masonic faith and always on the square in all his dealings. He only stranger once, after that he considered that person a friend for life.

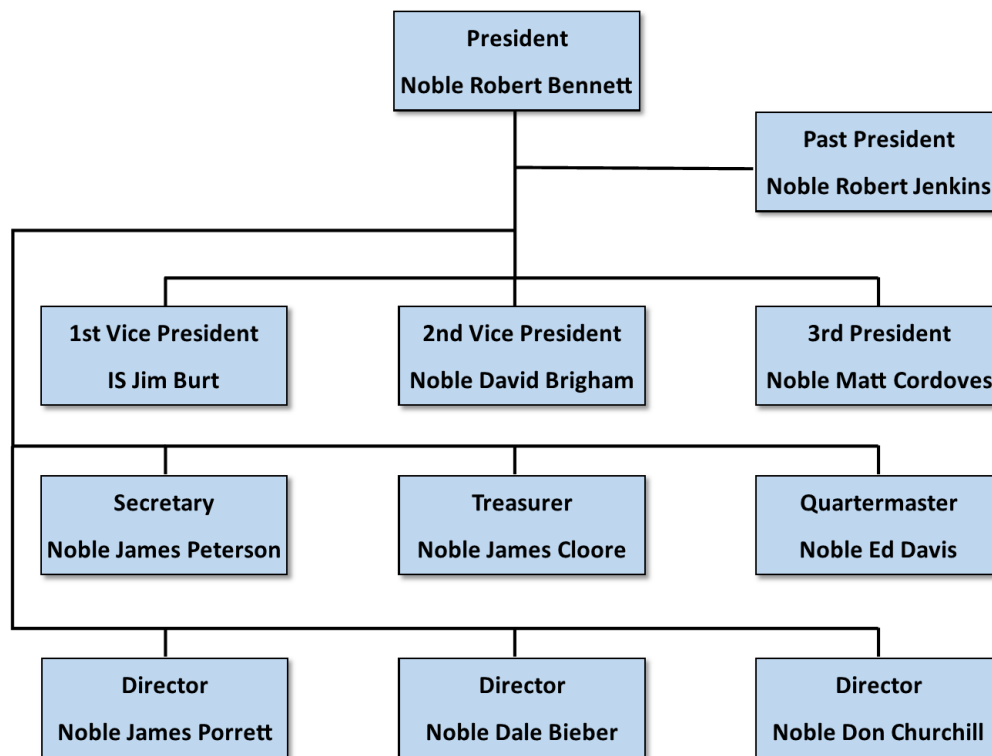

Noble Jon DeCaluwe was a Mason and Shriner through and through, always willing to help a fellow brother whenever the occasion came about. We have missed you since your move out of state and now since you have laid down your working tools and ascended to your Celestial home in heaven. Your job here is now completed, Good and Faithful Servant.
